SCHOOL GROWS; GETS NEW HEATING PLANT

Yesterday marked the completion of the new modern heating plant for the basement floors of the science building at the high school. E. A. Trincano of the Arizona Machinery and Electrical Company installed the equipment.

For some reason, the four big rooms of the lower floor were not equipped with heating facilities when the building was erected. Now that the rooms are needed, it was found necessary to proceed with the work. This year the four rooms will be used for class work, a fact that demonstrates the rapid growth of the institution.

He reported an apparent revival of business and said that the El Paso and Southwestern is receiving a good share of business from this section.

He left for Tucson last evening.

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED—Somebody started a small brush fire near Fifth avenue and Adams street yesterday forenoon. A dense cloud of smoke resulted and somebody else thought a serious fire was in progress and telephoned for the fire department. On arriving at the scene of the "conflagration" it was found to be well under control of the man who started it and the department was not called upon to extinguish it.

EXTRA SLEEPERS—Because of the heavy traffic, occasioned by people returning from the coast points, it has been found necessary to attach two extra sleepers to the Southern Pacific trains from the coast to Phoenix. General Agent A. R. Gatter reported yesterday that scores of Phoenixians who have been visiting the expositions or spending a few weeks at the beaches, are now returning. Each incoming train is crowded to the guards.

LAST WORD ABOUT MULLIGAN—Every preparation is complete for the big mulligan to be held this evening under the auspices of Phoenix Lodge, No. 2, Local Order of Moose, at Moose Home. Every Moose is urged to be in attendance and bring a friend. It is a strictly stag affair and everything is free. More birds were yesterday added to the already ample supply on hand and the success of the mulligan is assured. Romaine Fielding went into retreat yesterday and began work on his ten minute speech on the general subject of "Birds." He contends there are birds and birds. No Moose should allow any other arrangement to interfere with attendance at tonight's mulligan. The festivities begin sharply at 8:30 o'clock.

ALSO STOLE WHEEL—Joe V. Murphy, confessed check artist, now in the county jail awaiting the action of the superior court in his case, yesterday admitted that he stole a bicycle from in front of the Hartman barber shop on North First street, some time about August 25. He said the wheel was in Mesa. Policemen Wilkerson and Vadder went over to Mesa yesterday forenoon and recovered the wheel which had been picked up by Marshal Peyton. The number had been battered until it was impossible to decipher it and part of the frame and the rims had been repainted. The wheel is being held awaiting the appearance of the owner. It is a practically new, double bar wheel with both tires in good shape, one being almost new.

LAND OFFICE IS TRIBUNAL

Holds Judge Sawtelle in Denying Cameron Application for Order Restraining Local Land Office from Hearing Case.

Land offices are special tribunals with judiciary functions, according to a clause in the decision of Federal Judge William H. Sawtelle, denying the application of Ralph H. Cameron for an injunction to restrain Receiver John J. Birdno and Register T. F. Weedin of the local land office from continuing hearing a government contest against sixteen "mining claims in the Grand Canyon, in upholding the motion of U. S. Attorney Flynn to dismiss the application. Judge Sawtelle decides also, that the federal court has no jurisdiction—no right, in other words, to dictate to land offices about their own jurisdiction.

A copy of the decision was received from Prescott yesterday. Previous to the receipt of this copy, Flynn wired Birdno the gist of the decision, and as the wire was officially addressed, the receiver set the date for hearing the defendant's side of the contest argument for October 14. This is virtually a continuance from September 23, on which date the resumption of the hearing was set, when it was known the Cameron interests would interfere.

Another step in the fight to avoid answering the contest, is expected, now that the defendant has failed to halt proceedings with a restraining order. It was hinted yesterday that an attempt will be made to get Commissioner Clay Tallman to modify his order directing the Phoenix land office to take jurisdiction in this case, disregarding the ruling to the contrary by First Assistant Secretary of the Interior A. A. Jones.

MRS. CASSIDY BACK—Mrs. H. B. Cassidy returned to Phoenix yesterday from a vacation in the east.

ENJOYED HIMSELF—Thomas Whitney has returned from a stay of three months in southern California and regretted that he could not find an excuse to stay longer.

REDEWILL OUT OF LUCK—Eugene Redewill arrived yesterday with the story of the loss of his touring car, which burned on the desert near Dome.

REVISITING PHOENIX—Louis C. Melzer arrived in the city yesterday from Los Angeles. Mr. Melzer said the business in southern California was slow without a prospect of early improvement. He said that he had found it so in most parts of the country and he also found a disposition on the part of men with money to sit tight until there is a change of the "national administration."

Mr. Melzer is a life long democrat. He said that he had found it so in most parts of the country and he also found a disposition on the part of men with money to sit tight until there is a change of the "national administration."

sense, but highly educational. The Second Annual Safety Exposition of Ohio will be held in Central Armory, in Cleveland, January 2, to 30, 1916, when at least 50 companies will be represented with exhibits as well as many other states and public health departments. It will be formally opened by the governor of the state.

Under the direction of the Industrial Commission of Ohio, new laws for factories and workshops are now being formulated by committees of employers and workmen. Under the old plan such laws were made by the legislature; under the new system the employer and the workman become the legislators of their own factory laws. The new code, now ready for the approval of the industrial commission, will give increased protection from mechanical dangers, better ventilation, greater light, purer air and healthier sanitary conditions. In a word, the workman and the workingwoman in Ohio stands today on the threshold of more pleasant and happier working conditions, and a new and higher appreciation of the value of life and limb.

IT WAS BUSY DAY IN JUVENILE COURT

Disposition of Boys Who Fire a Seat of Learning

There were busy sessions of both branches of the superior court, hearing juvenile cases yesterday afternoon. The most important was that of the small boys, Edward Arnold and David Theodor, who had confessed to burning the school house in District 62, ten miles below the city a week ago. The Arnold youth was accompanied in court by his mother, his step-father and his grandfather.

The story was told by Sheriff Adams who had arrested the boys and Probation Officer Osborn who had afterward investigated the affair in that neighborhood. The Arnold boy had said that his older brother had given him the matches with which to fire the school house, but the older brother denied that and the younger rather weakened and abandoned it.

It was brought out that the boys were not really bad boys but that there was a good deal of lawless talk in that neighborhood relating to the burning out of people who were not popular and the stealing of horses. The boys had rather breathed that atmosphere but they now seemed to be impressed that that is not the right way to live. They were accordingly committed by Judge Lyman to the care of the probation officer to find homes for them.

The case of Nellie Shindlauer was before Judge Stanford. This girl who is a little below the average mentally had told stories of the misconduct of various persons with her and on her relation one man had been arrested. But when she was questioned her stories so varied as to leave a doubt in the mind of the court whether they had any real foundation at all. But it was the belief of the court that a girl of that age whose mind is running in that direction would be better off in the reform school and she was accordingly committed.

ON DECK AGAIN—Deputy Sheriff George Sears has returned from a vacation of two weeks in southern California.

NOTHING TO IT—Kate Green colored, defendant in a case of disturbing the peace called at the office of Justice De Souza yesterday to tell him that there was "nothing to it" and her manner was so matter of fact that the magistrate at first was on the point of scratching the case off of the docket. But in the course of the day so many other colored people called on one side or the other, that the court remembering that where there is a great deal of smoke there must be a smoldering fire, held the matter open for an investigation.
